2nd of Navy's Small 'Moons' Fails to Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The second of the Navy's basketball-sized satellites wound up today like the first—at the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean.

Fired aloft shortly before midnight by the Vanguard rocket the 20-inch ball flew 2,000 miles out into space, then plunged back to earth.

Five hours of baffling silence followed the launching before Dr. John P. Hagen, director of Project Vanguard, announced that the 21½-pound sphere did not go into orbit.

The engines of the three-stage Vanguard all fired as expected, Hagen said.

But the satellite was not boosted into a horizontal direction necessary to place it in orbit. Instead, it flew out in a wide arc, then fell back into the earth's atmosphere, back into the earth's atmosphere.

It was the fourth failure in five tries since the Vanguard rocket first was fired as a complete three-stage vehicle.

The first Vanguard exploded four feet off its launching pad.

The second blew apart 20,000 feet off the ground. The third launching rocket which hurled the pound satellite now in orbit. The fourth fell into the sea.

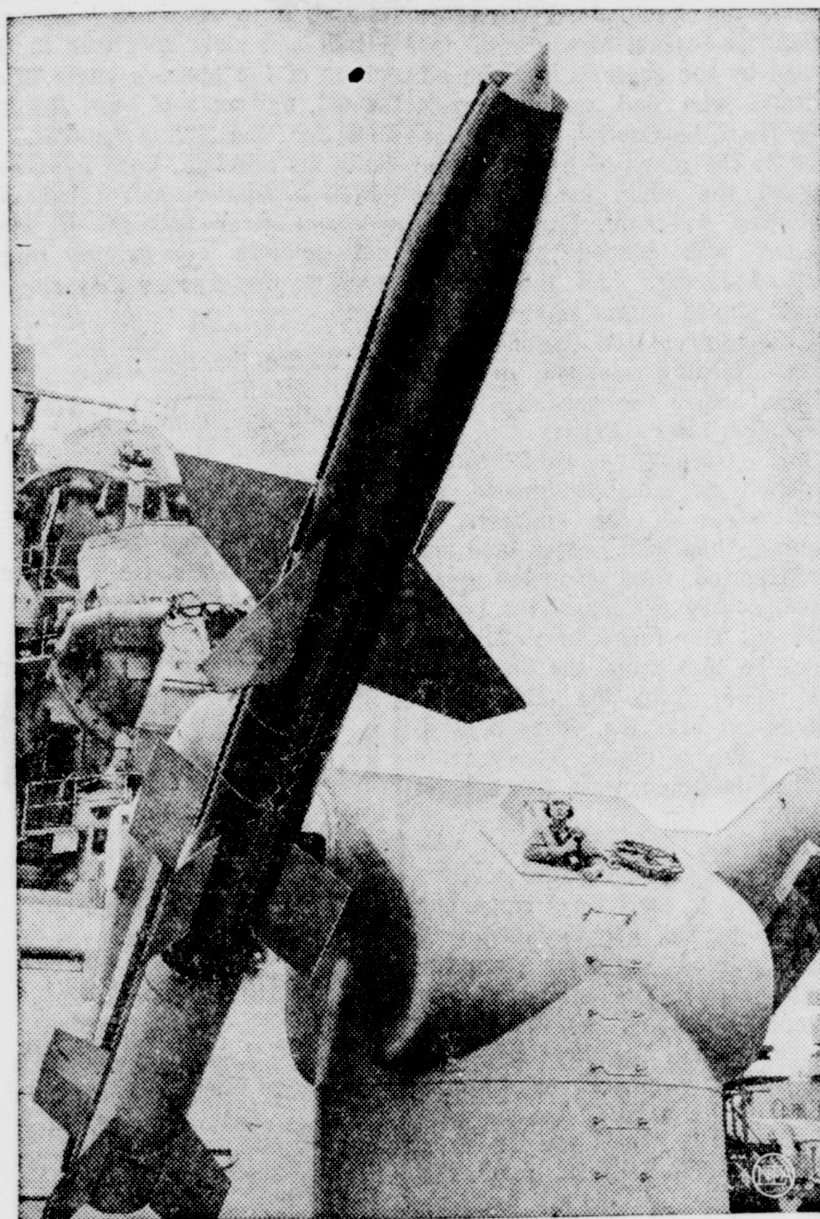

By contrast, the Army has a record of two successes in three tries with its Jupiter-C satellite launching rockets which hurled two Explorers into orbit.

Tuesday night's Vanguard launching appeared at the start to be perfect.

Within minutes, an optimistic Navy announcement said the engines in all three stages of the rocket had fired in proper sequence.

In quick succession thereafter, the satellite's signals were picked up at down-range listening posts.

ON GUARD — An imposing symbol of the modern Navy's long-range striking power is the sleek and deadly Talos supersonic guided missile as it rests on its launching turret aboard the cruiser Galveston at Philadelphia. Built by Bendix Aviation Corp., Talos is a 25-foot, 3,000-pound ramjet missile, capable of destroying enemy aircraft at a range of more than 65 miles and at stratospheric altitudes. The Galveston, which recently joined the fleet, is the first of several U.S. fighting ships which will be equipped with the Talos.

Ike Says No Tax Slash Warranted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eisenhower said today he believes the recession has largely spent itself.

America is weathering it well, he told a news conference at which he explained his stand against tax cuts.

Eisenhower said the current economic situation does not warrant any reductions that could create further deficit spending.

Though he said he thinks the recession has largely spent its force, the President declined to predict when there will be a business upturn and full employment again. He said he is no prophet.

The first question to Eisenhower was a request that he explain why he came out earlier this week against any general tax cut—any, as the reporter put it, anti-recession reduction.

Bristling a bit, Eisenhower said it looked to him as though the newsman was asking a loaded question. The President said he is not sure that any tax cut could be pictured as an anti-recession move.

As he has done many times in the past, the President said the tax situation has been a matter for careful and intense study. And, he went on, he finally decided that as of now the economic situation does not warrant any reductions beyond already proposed relief for small business.

Eisenhower also dealt with these other matters:

FRANCE—At the outset of the conference the President said the situations in crisis-ridden France and Lebanon are too delicate for him to discuss, so he was asking that those matters be, as he put it, taken off the question list.

In response to a question later he did say he happens to be one of those people who liked Gen. Charles de Gaulle when he knew him during and after World War II.

Ohio Assembly to Meet June 30, O'Neill Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A special session of the Legislature, called mainly to act on a proposed extension of the maximum period for paying state unemployment benefits, is expected to be called for the week of June 30.

Gov. C. William O'Neill made this announcement Tuesday after a conference with Senate and House leaders of both parties. He told newsmen:

"I cannot tell you definitely when the special session will be called. It is my present plan that it will be the week of June 30 by which time I hope the (Ohio) Supreme Court will have decided the merits of the question of the legality of SUB (supplemental unemployment benefits) in Ohio."

Labor leaders have been clamoring for the special legislative session to legalize SUB payments where they supposedly are in conflict with Ohio's unemployment compensation law. O'Neill has said he wants the Supreme Court to determine if SUB already is legal under state statute.

He told newsmen Tuesday it was his opinion that once the unemployment compensation question comes up in the special session, all matters pertaining to jobless pay, including SUB, could be considered.

He added: "So it is my considered judgment that before a special session is called, there should be a (court) decision on supplemental unemployment benefits. I'm sure it will be within a relatively short time."

The governor said if the session were convened before the Supreme Court decided the issue, the Legislature could be discussing SUB in one corner of the statehouse while the court is considering the case in the annex.

He asserted that the executive

U.S. Formally Receives Bodies of Unknown GIs

WASHINGTON (AP) — With three days of ceremonial honors ahead, the nation receives formally today the Unknowns of World War II and Korea.

Welcomed ashore from the destroyer Blandy, they proceed to the Capitol to be acclaimed by the Congress, the Supreme Court, Cabinet undersecretaries and foreign diplomats.

Beneath the dome in the Capitol rotunda, they will lie in state in twin bronze caskets until Friday, when they will be transported to permanent tombs alongside that of the Unknown Soldier of World War I.

They reached Washington Tuesday aboard the Blandy, which brought them from a seaborne rendezvous at which the two were selected to symbolize for all time the 8,494 fighting men still unidentified from World War II and the 853 from the Korean War.

They reposed Tuesday night side by side on the after deck of the destroyer while sailor sentries stood an honor watch through the night.

At the Capitol, a full-scale, formal reception of "the heroes' caskets" was arranged before a distinguished company representing this and foreign governments.

Scores of organizations have notified the government of their wish to place wreaths at the caskets in the rotunda. They included veterans organizations, war mothers' groups, veteran auxiliary societies and many others.

Alumni Assn. Will Honor Fred E. Cope

Fred E. Cope, athletic director at Salem High School, will be honored at the 76th annual High School Alumni Association dinner-dance to be held at the Masonic Temple June 7 at 6:45 p.m.

He will receive a plaque from the association for his work in sports.

This marks the first time the event was planned as a testimonial to a Salem high graduate. Cope graduated here in 1925 and has been on the high school faculty for 25 years.

Following the dinner, a dance will be held at the Salem Golf Club, with music furnished by the Keith Riffle Orchestra. Riffle is a 1940 Salem graduate.

The highlight of the evening will be the presentation of alumni scholarships to outstanding seniors. The awards will be made by Common Pleas Court Judge Joel H. Sharp.

Al Fitch, president of the Board of Education, will be the main speaker. His talk will concern the progress of the new high school.

Don Beatty, a 1938 Salem graduate and now editor of the Ashland Times-Gazette, will be master of ceremonies.

The election of officers for the alumni association will also be announced during the dinner.

Over 300 persons are expected to attend the affair.

Seven children, ranging in age from seven to 10, escaped injury but two other persons were hurt in a three-vehicle collision on Rt. 30, two and one-half miles south of Lisbon, Tuesday at 3:10 p.m.

The mishap was one of three investigated by state highway patrolmen yesterday and this morning. They cited three persons.

The children were passengers in a school bus driven by Frank L. Woodrow, 52, of Wellsburg, that had stopped on the highway to discharge some other children.

A car stopped behind the school bus by James Cavanaugh, 50, of Lisbon was struck in the rear by a truck-trailer driven by Charles Ervin, 38, of East Chicago, Ill.

The impact drove the auto into the rear of the school bus.

Injured and treated by a Lisbon physician were Cavanaugh, lacerations of the face and abrasions of both knees, and a passenger in his car, Vernon Blazer, 40, of East Liverpool, lacerations of the right hand and abrasions of the right arm and back.

Ervin was cited for reckless operation.

Catherine M. Tadilla, 49, of East Liverpool was arrested for driving left of center after she lost control of her car on a curve, causing it to crash into a bridge abutment on County Road 430, near Cannons Mill, Tuesday at 5:45 p.m.

James R. McCoy, 25, of East Liverpool was arrested for reckless operation and for driving without a driver's license after he lost control of his car which went into a ditch on Rt. 7, four miles north of East Liverpool, at 1:30 a.m. today.

Public response in the city religious census has been gratifying, officers of the Ministerial Association report.

To date a total of 3,500 questionnaire cards has been returned to the secretary, Mrs. Robert Grams, and another 1,500 are expected to be turned in by the end of the week.

All local churches are participating in the canvass wherein the names of all church members or non-church attendees are secured. The cards are to be turned over to the churches named by the families or individuals.

Canvassers have failed to get a response from 260 homes because the occupants have been away when the calls were made. These persons are urged to write their names and address on a slip of paper, together with their church preference, and mail it to Mrs. Grams.

Salem Man Named Head of Retarded Children's Council

John Billiter of 423 N. Howard Ave., an insurance agent, was named president of the Columbiana County Retarded Children's Council at a meeting Tuesday night in Lisbon. He succeeds Mrs. Harry Steinmetz of East Liverpool.

Others elected were Robert Hum, Columbiana, school principal, vice president; Mrs. James Baumgartner of East Liverpool, secretary and Howard Hochmann of Lisbon, treasurer.

Directors are Robert Starbuck, William Sunderman and David Smith, all of Salem, Homer Muse of Lisbon and Mrs. Steinmetz.

About 15 attended the meeting at which Robert Bycroft, county welfare director, spoke.

The new officers will be installed at the next meeting here June 24 at the First Presbyterian Church Westminster House where the retarded children's school operates. Nine children are now enrolled for the special training that is being given.

House Group Orders Speedup In War Program

$38.3 Billion in New
Cash Recommended
For U.S. Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today ordered a speedup in missile and antisubmarine warfare programs. It did so in recommending $38,310,561,000 in new cash for defense in the coming fiscal year.

Approving $113,614,000 more than the Defense Department had asked, the committee vetoed administration plans to reduce the strength of the National Guard, the Army Reserves and the Marine Corps. It also provided funds for nine new missile-launching nuclear submarines instead of the five proposed by President Eisenhower.

The committee allotted $2,732,965,000 for research and development, including 510 million dollars for space research.

All the recommendations are subject to House action next week.

Here are the amounts the committee recommended, for the fiscal years starting next July 1, for the office of the secretary, inter-service activities, Army, Navy and Air Force, compared with funds appropriated this year:

Office	1958-59	1959-60
Office	$36,050,000	$16,350,000
Service	796,900,000	682,375,000
Army	8,617,626,000	7,264,550,000
Navy	11,042,210,000	10,216,355,000
Air	17,317,755,000	16,320,220,000

County Board Votes 3-2 On Legal Step

Talbot School Petition Ruling To Be Appealed

LISBON—The Columbiana County Board of Education at a special meeting Tuesday night voted three to two to appeal Judge Raymond Buzzard's ruling that the Talbot school transfer petition is valid.

The petition, signed by 75 percent of Hillcrest territory residents who wish to transfer to the Wellsburg school system, was rejected by the board Nov. 26, but its decision was reversed by Judge Buzzard.

The required number of people originally signed the petition, but a counter petition containing 39 names of Hillcrest residents who wanted their signatures removed from the initial petition was subsequently presented to the board. The board then ruled that the original petition was invalid.

However, Judge Buzzard held that the board did not take final action on checking the legality of the counter petition.

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw, who attended the board meeting, said he did not file an appeal previously as requested by the board because he had learned from Donald Elliott, a member of the board, that there was no new evidence to present to the court.

It was decided at last night's meeting that the board would appeal the ruling.

Pflimlin Offers To Resign Post As French Chief

Many Say De Gaulle
Will Get President's
Bid Before Nightfall

PARIS (AP) — President Rene Coty began searching for a new French premier today after Pierre Pflimlin offered his resignation.

Many Frenchmen thought that by nightfall Gen. Charles de Gaulle would get the call to office. After De Gaulle announced Tuesday that he already was forming a government without being legally asked, the Assembly rebuffed him by giving Pflimlin a 408-165 vote of support.

But the Conservative Independents deserted the government on the vote and the party's three ministers quit the Cabinet. Pflimlin, red-eyed from day and night efforts to save his government from Gaullists in Algeria and Corsica, then met with the remainder of his two-week-old Cabinet and hurried to see Coty at 2 a.m.

Pflimlin said the defection of the independents had weakened the government at a crucial moment and he could not go on. The President refused to let him step aside until a new premier was ready to take over, seeking to avoid a power vacuum while France is threatened with civil strife.

Accepts Compromise
Pflimlin accepted the compromise and Coty began talking with political leaders. The President said he hoped to be able to name a candidate to succeed Pflimlin by evening.

If Coty decided not to call De Gaulle, the best guess was that he would ask Socialist Guy Mollet to try to form a government. Mollet holds the postwar record for length of office as premier.

The outcome was hopefully

FRB Reports Bright Signs In Economy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board said today it sees some signs of a leveling off in the unemployment situation.

The board said in its monthly Federal Reserve Bulletin that since February there has been a slight drop in the number of persons unemployed for four weeks or less. It said this may "indicate that layoffs have become less frequent and that seasonally adjusted unemployment may be leveling off."

April employment figures showed an increase for the ninth straight month in the seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment. The rate was 7½ per cent of the labor force. May figures will be announced next week.

Although citing some grounds for optimism, the board observed that the number of persons vainly seeking work for 15 weeks or longer has more than doubled in the past 12 months. It said the April figure was sharply higher than for any month in the previous postwar recessions.

Nonfarm employment, the Bulletin said, has dropped more than in either the 1948-49 or 1953-54 slumps.

Construction employment in April was 5 per cent lower than a year earlier despite the spring pickup in outdoor work, it said. Trade employment of 11,300,000 last month was down almost 350,000 from its 1957 peak, the review added.

Major Portion of Simpson's Pulitzer Prize-Winning Account Reproduced

Over 36 Years Ago U.S. Honored Unknown Soldier of 1st World War

EDITOR'S NOTE — Friday in Arlington National Cemetery two unknown American servicemen will be buried. These men, who lost their lives in World War I and the Korean War, will join the Unknown Soldier of World War I, who has been alone in the memorial since Nov. 11, 1921. On that day more than 36 years ago, one of the most famous news stories of all time was written by Kirke L. Simpson, then a member of the Washington staff of The Associated Press. A major portion of his Pulitzer Prize-winning account is reproduced below.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11, 1921—(By the Associated Press.)—Under the wide and starry skies of his own homeland, America's unknown dead from France sleeps tonight, a soldier home from the wars.

Alone, he lies in the narrow cell of stone that guards his body; but his soul has entered into the spirit that is America. Wherever liberty is held close in men's hearts, the honor and the glory and the pledge of high endeavor poured out over this nameless one of fame, will be told and sung by Americans for all time.

Scrolled across the marble arch of the memorial raised to American soldier and sailor dead, everywhere, which stands like a monument behind his tomb, runs this legend: "We here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain."

The words were spoken by the martyred Lincoln over the dead at Gettysburg. And today with voice strong with determination and ringing with deep emotion another President echoed that high resolve over the coffin of the soldier who died for the flag in France.

Heard Purpose Reiterated

Great men in the world's affairs heard that high purpose reiterated by the man who stands at the head of the American people. Tomorrow they will gather in the city that stands almost in the shadow of the new American shrine of liberty dedicated today. They will talk of peace; and of the curbing of the havoc of war.

They will speak of the war in France, that robbed this soldier of life and name and brought death to comrades of all nations by the hundreds of thousands. And in their ears when they meet must ring President Harding's declaration, today beside that flag-wrapped, honor-laden bier: "There must be, there shall be, the commanding voice of a conscious civilization against armed warfare."

All day long the nation poured out its heart in pride and glory for the nameless American. Before the first crash of the minute guns roared its knell for the dead from the shadow of the Washington monument, the people who claim him as their own were trooping out to do him honor. They lined the long road from the Capitol to the hillside where he sleeps tonight; they flowed like a tide over the slopes about his burial place. They choked the bridges that lead across the river to the fields of the brave, in which he is the last corner.

Played Part in Spectacle

Soldiers, sailors and marines—all played their part in the thrilling spectacle as the cortege rolled along. And just behind the casket, with its faded French flowers on the draped flag, walked the President, the chosen leader of a hundred million, in whose name he was chief mourner at his bier. Beside him strode the man under whom the fallen hero had lived and died in France, Gen. Pershing, wearing only the single medal of victory that every American soldier might wear as his only decoration.

Behind came the carriage in which rode Woodrow Wilson, also stricken down by infirmities as he served in the highest place of the nation, just as the humble private riding in such state ahead had gone down before a shell or bullet. For that dead man's sake, the former President had put aside his dread of seeming to parade his physical weakness and risked health, perhaps life, to appear among the mourners for the fallen.

After President Harding and most of the high dignitaries of the government had turned aside at the White House, the procession, headed by its solid blocks of soldiery and the battalions of sailor comrades, moved on with Pershing, now flanked by Secretaries Weeks and Denby, for the long road to the tomb. Gleaned Through Trees

Ahead, the white marble of the amphitheater gleamed through the trees. People in thousands were moving about the great circle. Down below the platform placed for the casket, in a stone vault, lay wreaths and garlands. Above the platform gathered men whose names ring through history—Briand, Foch, Beatty, Balfour, Jacques, Diaz and others—in a brilliant array of place and power. They were followed by notables from all countries gathered here for tomorrow's conference and by some of the older figures in American life too old to walk beside the approaching funeral train.

At the arch where the choir waited the heroic dead, comrades lifted his casket down and, followed by the generals and the admirals, who had walked beside him from the Capitol, he was carried to the place of honor. Ahead moved the white robed singers, chanting solemnly. Carefully the casket was placed above the banked flowers and the Marine band played sacred melodies until the moment the President and Mrs. Harding stepped to their places beside the casket.

Repeated Lord's Prayer

Mr. Harding showed strong emotion as his lips formed the last words of the address. He paused, then with raised hand and head bowed, went on in the measured, rolling periods of the Lord's Prayer. The response that came back to him from the thousands he faced, from the other thousands out over the slopes beyond, arose like a chant. The marble arches hummed with the solemn sound.

Then the foreign officers who stand highest among the soldiers or sailors of their flags came one by one to the bier to place gold and jeweled emblems for the brave above the breast of the sleeper. Already, as the great prayer ended, the President had set the American seal of admiration for the valiant, the nation's love for brave deeds and the courage that defies death, upon the casket. Side by side he laid the Medal of Honor and the Distinguished Service Cross.

Lowered Into Crypt

The casket, with its weight of honors, was lowered into the crypt. A rocking blast of gunfire rang from the woods. The glittering circle of bayonets stiffened to a salute to the dead. Again the guns shouted their message of honor and farewell. Again they boomed out: a loyal comrade was being laid to his last, long rest.

High and clear and true in the echoes of the guns, a bugle lifted the old, old notes of taps, the lullaby for the living soldier, in death his requiem. Long ago some forgotten soldier poet caught its meaning clear and set it down that soldiers everywhere might know its message as they sing to rest:

"Fades the light;
And afar
Goeth day, cometh night
And a star
Leadeth all, speedeth all,
To their rest."

The guns roared out again in the national salute. He was home, the Unknown, to sleep forever among his own.

Navy to Commission 1st Missile Warship

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Navy commissions its first missile warship today, a cruiser that carries an atomic weapon capable of destroying unseen planes or surface vessels more than 65 miles away.

The cruiser Galveston, freshly painted and its brass shining, officially goes into service 13 years after it was launched. Sponsoring the commissioning is Mrs. Clark W. Thompson of Galveston, wife of a Democratic congressman from Texas' 9th Dist.

The Galveston was launched in 1945 but was placed in reserve without being commissioned.

Conversion to a missile cruiser began 20 months ago. It will be completed by September for a shakedown cruise to the Caribbean.

Local Boy Made Good in Moscow

Sometime, somewhere, the Van Cliburn puzzle will have to be taken apart and put back together so the young pianist's fellow Americans can understand what happened.

Why was he only a highly competent musician when he entered a piano competition in the capital of the Soviet Union but a sensational drawing card for cultural exploitation when he won the competition and returned home?

Van Cliburn went to Moscow because he needed publicity to help his professional career — publicity he had not been getting in the United States. But when he got it abroad, his countrymen fell over themselves to give it to him at home. His earning power is assured for years to come.

Something like this happened in 1945, when a young American pianist, Eugene List, played for President Truman and his guests at the Potsdam Conference, winning fame overnight that years of professional competence on the concert stage at home could not have brought him.

Are Americans so uncertain about their cultural standards that they must wait for recognition abroad before they will commit themselves?

Or are Americans merely indifferent to cultural excellence as such and sensitive only to the publicity that artists must have before they can win acclaim?

Or, what is hardest to admit as a possibility, have Americans become so sensitive to the challenge of the Soviet Union that they will not let themselves be outdone in a show of appreciation for any artist received favorably in Russia?

The practice of winning acclaim abroad to get publicity at home is not new. But the spectacular success of pianist Cliburn after winning acclaim in Moscow, including a bear hug by Nikita Khrushchev, is a new dimension for an old idea. Impresarios who have devoted their lives to the technique of presenting artists to the American public are awed not only by Cliburn's success but by the even more spectacular success of Moscow's Moiseyev dance company in this country. Thousands of Americans who would not go around the corner to see their own dance artists perform are vying with one another to show their cash appreciation to this troupe of Russian men and women.

It is as if competition between the United States and Russia had developed a special fury to see which can outdo the other in appreciation of culture — surely the most curious twist yet in the cold war that ranges all the way from piano-playing to earth satellites, from applause to street riots in South America, from insults in the United Nations to garden parties in Washington.

Competition, which Americans believe is the spice of life, never has contained so much mustard.

Politics For the Sake of Politics

The French leftists who have kept Charles de Gaulle at arm's length this long probably can hold him off a little longer. But nothing they can do to him will alter his indictment against them.

It is an indictment shared by every Frenchman who has watched the deterioration of French politics in the hands of politicians who play politics for its own sake, ignoring the needs of the nation.

Whether De Gaulle, who led France out of the disaster it courted with its pre-war weakness, strides into the vacuum of political impotence, or whether the vacuum finally is filled by someone else, weakness will produce a strong leader.

The alternative would be the dissolution of the French nation, and there is no reason to believe the French are going to throw in the sponge. The glaring paradox of their present trouble is the fact it is occurring when the French people as a whole have been increasing their advantage.

There has been a failure of politics, not of the French people — a failure that was predicted by De Gaulle as early as 1946 when the Fourth Republic was established under a constitution he said would be unworkable.

Politicians have ceased to be leaders. They have been involved in an endless war of political maneuver, trimming, compromising, dealing and conniving for their survival as politicians. Their arrangement of splinter parties has made it impossible for any party to get a clear mandate.

Each party, and especially the Communists, must be on the alert to keep every other party from gaining strength. This was what paralyzed the followers of De Gaulle, who would make no deals and enter into no coalitions; they were forced to the sidelines by all the other parties. As absolutists, they had nothing in common with the relativists who dominated the political scene.

Once Over

Frank Costello insisted in court the other day that he never saw the man who shot him at close range in a brightly lighted lobby and could not identify the man found by the police after a long hunt. It is just possible a visit to an eye doctor is needed:

Doc—Just what is your optical complaint?

A—I have no complaint. It's the law courts.

Q—How's your vision generally speaking?

A—Generally speaking, good, but under general questioning not too good.

Q—Do you wear glasses?

A—Only at times, but the police say I need them all the time.

Q—Do your eyes bother you when watching movies?

A—I don't need movies, Doc. My own life provides situations Hollywood couldn't dream up.

Q—Shall we take a chart test?

A—I've always made my Belmont selections.

Q—I'm referring to a different type of chart.

A—You mean there's a new one?

Q—Please focus on the top line. Can you read the letters?

A—Are you demanding the usual "yes" or "no" answer?

Q—I want you to tell me the first four letters. What are they?

A—I can't answer until I consult my attorney. And don't raise your voice at me.

Q—You seem nervous. Maybe you need a shot.

A—That's where you're wrong. After a shot my eyesight is extra bad.

A—Everything but my special account for legal fees.

Q—You mean everything goes black?

But the relativists now dominate only themselves. France is the victim of their collective weakness. They yearn for strength that they cannot find in the terms of their political system.

A reaction from too much bickering and trimming too long continued is overdue. Whether it takes the form of support for De Gaulle, or someone else who promises strength, it cannot be suppressed indefinitely.

A revolution from the right is in the cards—and it could take more drastic form than the rightism of Charles de Gaulle.

Religious Canvass

The community-wide religious census now being taken in Salem is expected to strengthen the church-home relationship in our community.

The canvass is now in its second and concluding week and already 3,500 questionnaire cards have been returned, with 1,500 more due back this weekend. However, there are 260 homes marked "no response" after three repeated calls. The necessity for a 100 per cent canvass is obvious, so if you have been missed by one of the canvassers, write down the names of members of your family, list the church or Sunday school you attend, or give your church preference, and mail the information to Mrs. Robert Grams, secretary of the church census committee, 609 E. Fourth St.

Your cooperation will assist all of the Salem churches which are sponsoring the religious census to determine how to best serve the spiritual needs of the community — your community.

THE DODGERS on their first eastern trip must have had mixed feelings. We wonder how they felt emerging into the eastern air. The West has a strong pull and it could be they felt as Wyatt Earp might have felt on a trip to Philadelphia. Or they could feel the joy of homecoming, crying, "This is my own, my native land."

Another guess is that they have become so accustomed to air travel they are never too sure whether they are home or abroad. But you have no trouble figuring how their Brooklyn friends felt.

Almost to a man they brushed off any urge to make the short trip to Philadelphia to see them. Some thought even their TV set was too near.

Our first contact with evangelism back home in boyhood came through these campaigns and they packed the Poli Palace Theater for weeks.

France's Split Personality

By JAMES MARLOW

brought them to the edge of chaos.

And the French, once the masters of Europe, cannot get used to the idea that in the evolution of history they have become only a second rate power at best. They still dream of glory.

Out of their chaos, their dreams of glory, their desire to hold what they have — in this case their Algerian colony—they look more and more not to freedom but to authority.

That authority is represented to them now in the person of one man: Charles de Gaulle.

The French pride themselves on being practical minded but the growing devotion to and the desire for De Gaulle is in the realm of mysticism.

The French do not know—because De Gaulle has never said—exactly what he'll do or what direction he will take.

If they choose him as the master of their fate they are relying on hope and not on a stated policy.

He has not stated his policy—he has not even clearly said whether he wants to be a dictator —except to indicate he wants plenty of power.

The freedom-minded French held on to their Middle East possessions until they could hold no longer. Their power in the Middle East is zero now.

They held Indochina until in World War II they were forced out by the Japanese. It was the British who had to go back into Indochina after the war and hold it for the French until they could resume control.

They showed no evidence of giving freedom to the Vietnamese, training neither an administrator nor an officer corps which would have been necessary to run a new government.

In the end the Indochinese nationalists, led by the Communists, revolted and forced the French to give up their hold on the country altogether.

They lost their grip on what they held in North Africa except for Algeria. They made the mistake of trying to invade Egypt until ordered by the United States and the Soviet Union to get out.

To the rebels in the last stronghold of French colonialism—Algeria—the French said no to freedom. In short, they had learned nothing from all their disasters.

In an effort to crush these rebels France had to pull its forces out of the NATO defense of Europe and send them to Algeria, and it still hasn't been able to win there.

Bit by bit France has been growing smaller, less powerful. The French, despite all their experience in politics, are too politically immature to face that realization.

They have now had 25 governments since World War II. What they face, if they pick De Gaulle, is something they can't even predict.

Treason in Cold War

Punishment Urged For Treason in Cold War

Does a nation wait till subversive individuals complete their conspiracy against their own country before trying them for treason?

To o many followers of the so-called liberal school of thought are arguing, in effect, that it is better to let the horse be stolen before trying to lock the barn and the nation's safety may be jeopardized, individual rights come ahead of the right of the state.

But a subcommittee of the United States Senate has come forth with a recommendation that something drastic be done before treasonable purposes are accomplished. Here is the latest proposal in a report from the Senate's subcommittee on internal security:

"The Congress should enact legislation to provide for the proper punishment of acts performed during a time of 'cold war' which, if a state of declared war existed, would be treasonable."

This is the first time that a committee of Congress has formally recognized that treason can occur when there is no state of "declared war" and that it can be so damaging to the United States as to affect the nation's capacity successfully to fight a "hot war."

THE "COLD WAR" currently is costing the taxpayers of the United States billions of dollars a year. America is trying to win friends throughout the world and to thwart the malicious purposes of Communist imperialism. Already one "hot war" has resulted from the tensions of the "cold war." This occurred in Korea from 1950 to 1953. More than 136,000 American boys were casualties in that war. Those killed numbered 33,629.

Today the Communists are stirring up trouble throughout the world. They are active in North Africa, the Middle East, Southeast Asia and Latin America. They are fighting against American policies and programs and dangerous situations are being created that could bring on a "hot war."

Under such circumstances, should any American citizen be assisting the Communists—giving them "aid and comfort"? The exact wording of the Constitution on the subject is as follows:

"Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort."

This issue, it will be noted, is presented in two forms. While treason consists of "levying war," equally important is the statement that separately it also may consist of "adhering" to the "enemies" of the United States by "giving them aid and comfort."

WHAT DOES the word "enemy" mean in this connection? The word "enemy" is often used in official documents in referring to our adversaries in the "cold war." But if the word is to be literally or technically used, there is, for example, at the moment an armistice in Korea but not a treaty of peace between the Communist enemy—Red China—and the United Nations, of whose troops the United States is still the military agent. Our armed forces guard the armistice line 24 hours a day. The United Nations in a formal resolution, moreover, is on record as having denounced Communist China as an "aggressor." Red China is the ally of the Moscow government, which has publicly admitted that it has been supplying arms and ammunition to Red China's forces in Korea. In international law, this makes the Soviet government also an "enemy."

The question is rightly asked, therefore, whether American citizens should go unpunished if they act as counsellors to any enemy government or if they deliberately mingle or fraternize with official representatives of any enemy government for the purpose of thwarting the policies of the United States.

THE SENATE subcommittee also makes the following recommendation:

"The Congress should by law make it an act of self-expatriation for a United States citizen to assist in the communication of any foreign nation or its subdivision or the people thereof or to accept office or employment in or under the government of any Communist country."

The subcommittee proposes, moreover, that legislation be enacted making it an offense "to enter into collusion with a foreign government for the purpose of evading passport regulations of the United States."

What's behind this demand for new legislation against treasonable and subversive activities? Mostly the misbehavior of those Americans who are consorting with organizations directed by the Communist governments in Moscow and Peiping in order to defeat the American government's policies. This is not a question of "freedom of speech" or of the bill of rights, as is argued by some of the critics who unwittingly put up a smokescreen for the Communists by crying "hysteria" whenever anything is proposed that would nip treason in the bud. It's simply a question of protecting the nation against acts of subversion which, though committed during a "cold war," can have consequences parallel to those that would be punished as treasonable in a "hot war."

Canada Without Flag

By ERIC DAWNTON

OTTAWA

Canada is the only independent country in the world without a national flag of its own.

A fresh wave of interest in the flag question has been started in Ottawa by reports that Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's government may do something about it. And a spate of competitions and polls on flag design has begun. Hopes are that Canada will have a national flag to wave for its 100th birthday in 1967 but there is no certainty about it.

The flag controversy has waxed and waned for 91 years here, ever since Canada became an independent dominion. And one of Diefenbaker's Cabinet ministers recently remarked there are "many things that are now more important than choosing a design for a new Canadian flag."

So it is quite possible Canada's centennial will be celebrated under its merchant shipping ensign.

Oddly, although Canada has practically no merchant marine, the flag of its trading fleet was designated the dominion's national colors by government order in 1945. The Canadian merchant marine ensign is a simple adaptation of the British merchant marine's famous "Red Duster."

The "duster" consists of a red field and the Union Jack, Britain's flag, in the top corner next the staff. The Canadian adaptation of this was created 34 years ago merely by adding the Canadian coat of arms in the fly (the loose end) of the "Red Duster."

The 91-year-old controversy is rooted in old distrusts and jealousies between Canadians of French and British origins. Proud of their imperial connections, the British wanted either the Union Jack prominently displayed on the flag. The French, equally proud of their ancestry, wanted the Fleur de Lys, national symbol of France.

The issue has been so touchy that all Canadian governments to date have adroitly avoided a decision. Nevertheless, a stream of suggested designs for a Canadian flag flows into government offices from patriotic societies, scholars, artists, clubs and school children. Today the government has about 46,000 suggestions on file.

Organizers of recent polls claim to detect interesting developments. The maple leaf, generally regarded as Canada's national emblem, seems to have decisively edged out both Union Jack and Fleur de Lys as the most popular choice for the central symbol of a national flag. Red, white and blue is the preferred color motif, often with green in the maple leaf.

Several pollsters have come up with the conclusion that Canadians of the age of 40 or over tend to be indifferent toward the issue, but that younger age groups, especially teen-agers, are strongly in favor of a distinctive national flag.

Senate Okay Of Jobless Pay Bill Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate drove today toward passage of an emergency jobless pay bill after an overwhelming rejection of an effort to make basic revisions in the system.

The measure, already passed by the House and endorsed by the Eisenhower administration, would authorize federal advances to the states for a temporary extension of unemployment benefit payments.

A major issue still to be settled is whether the extended payments will be optional with each state, as the House voted, or whether they will be made mandatory, as President Eisenhower originally asked.

Senators seeking to strengthen the bill contend it is virtually useless, but on the first test vote Tuesday they were defeated 63-21. The vote came on a substitute measure offered by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.).

Administration leaders have called for passage of the House bill without change so that there will be no further delay in extending aid to unemployed who already have exhausted their benefit rights.

The extension in most states would be 13 weeks. The money advanced by the federal government would have to be repaid by the states starting in 1963.

Up for action as the Senate went into a second day of debate on the bill was an amendment by Kennedy to extend the duration of present benefit payments by 16 weeks in all states.

States would be excused from repaying the federal government if, by 1963, they had revised their laws to provide benefits for at least 30 weeks equal to 50 percent of a worker's average wage or if their unemployment trust funds were in precarious condition.

Officials of the Military District of Washington, responsible for the detailed planning of the entire unknowns funeral and burial program, have been compelled to compile a minute-by-minute timetable for floral presentations.

For today, the timetable showed a wreath-laying ceremony every 15 minutes; for Thursday, one every five minutes over an interval of several hours.

awaited in Algiers, where the crisis was touched off May 13 by a military-civilian seizure of power in defiance of Paris. The junta ruling Algeria and since last Saturday Corsica has vowed to remain defiant until De Gaulle takes over.

Some 50,000 persons, the largest crowd since the insurgent movement began, demonstrated Tuesday night in Algiers demanding De Gaulle as a strongman leader of France.

Paris Remains Tense
Paris remained quiet but was tense with rumors that the paratroopers who sparked the Algeria uprising might move to install De Gaulle by force. But the drama in the Assembly and Coty's Elysee Palace produced no visible effect on the capital's normal life.

Police, some with tommyguns, ringed every major public building and reserve troops waited in buses in the parks off the Champs Elysees as they have for the last two weeks. But they did not have to go into action.

Strikes called for Tuesday by the Communists as a show of their bitter opposition to De Gaulle were short and lacked punch.

The events which led up to Pflimlin's resignation offer started late Monday night.

At De Gaulle's initiative, he and Pflimlin met secretly. "I asked him to use his authority to recall to their sense of duty those who were rising against republican order," but got no assurance, Pflimlin later told the Assembly. A high government source said the Premier agreed to stand aside for the general.

Blew Up Possible Deal
De Gaulle's abrupt noontime statement that he had started to form a government blew up any deal with the surprised Pflimlin, who said he had no advance knowledge of the announcement.

On hearing it, Pflimlin left an Assembly debate on his proposed constitutional reforms to strengthen executive powers, met with his Cabinet and then said he would stay in office. That made the Assembly's vote approving constitutional reform in principle a test between Pflimlin and De Gaulle.

"The moment has come for (the Assembly) to take its responsibilities," Pflimlin told the deputies. When the vote came early today, 260 non-Communists and 184 Communists supported Pflimlin and 165 rightists opposed him.

UPS AND DOWNS OF FRENCH REPUBLICS — Political crises are nothing new in France. Sketched above is succession of governments that have ruled the country since the revolution of 1792. The guillotining of King Louis XVI in 1793, ended the feudal system in France. It made way for the First Republic. Disorganization and lack of leadership paved the way for Napoleon Bonaparte to march from military leader to First Consul of the Republic to Emperor as Napoleon I in 1804. A disastrous campaign in Russia and finally complete defeat forced Napoleon into exile on Elba in 1814. The feeble rule of the restored Bourbons made his return easy. But, following the famous "Hundred Days" (March-June, 1815), and the crushing defeat at Waterloo, Napoleon was exiled for good. Following the bloody political revolution of 1848, Louis Napoleon, nephew of the first Emperor, was elected president of the Second Republic. Later, heading the Second Empire as Napoleon III, his arms were beaten by Bismarck in the Franco-Prussian War of 1870. Humiliating concessions to the Germans forced him from power. The Third Republic was formed in 1871 with Louis Thiers as its first president. This unstable government (99 cabinets in its first 65 years) lasted until World War II. Following the war, General de Gaulle, leader of the Free French, took control of a provisional government which was replaced, in 1947, with the Fourth Republic. Its first president was Vincent Auriol.

said he deplores any idea of the government attempting to control wages and prices in time of peace. He renewed his appeal to business and labor leaders to keep wages and prices from spiraling dangerously.

His remarks came when a reporter said the cost of living has increased again and asked what can be done about it. The President first replied he doesn't know what the government can do so long as it is committed to support of the free enterprise philosophy.

Eisenhower added that his goal is to maintain a sound dollar and a stable economy lest values of pensions and insurance policies be destroyed.

As for the economic outlook, Eisenhower said sales of automobiles and durable goods still are on the decline, but there are other indications that the recession is leveling off.

the new Advanced Research Projects Agency.

The committee voted to authorize the Army to use 425 million dollars of its stock fund money for regular activities, and the Navy to use 160 millions from a similar fund. Stock funds are revolving accounts built up from sales of uniforms and miscellaneous supplies and equipment.

The new cash, if finally approved by Congress, will give the Defense Department $47,805,000 to obligate during the coming year, counting an estimated carryover of about 7 1/2 billion dollars from current year appropriations. The department plans to spend about 40 1/2 billions during the 12 months.

In a report written by Rep. George Mahon (D-Tex.), the committee said its action would maintain Marine Corps strength at 200,000 men at the year's end, National Guard strength at 400,000 and reserve strength at 300,000. This is 25,000 more Marines, 40,000 more Guardsmen, and 30,000 more reservists than Eisenhower had proposed.

"We are still strong and are getting stronger," the committee said, "especially in the area of our massive retaliation capacity. The Soviet successes in rocketry have demonstrated that there is a definite relationship between preparation for a possible hot war and progress in the current cold war."

"Not only are the Soviets making rapid technological progress," the committee said, "but testimony of intelligence officials shows that they are also continuing to improve the equipment of existing present day military forces capable of threatening our sea lanes and control over the seas generally."

At the end of the fiscal year, the committee said, military manpower will total 2,530,000—consisting of 870,000 Army, 630,000 Navy, 200,000 Marines, and 830,000 Air Force.

The committee also approved operation of an active fleet of 864 ships next year. Backing up this fleet will be 10,300 Navy aircraft and an unspecified number of Marine planes. With its recommended funds, the Air Force would operate 43 strategic air wings, 27 air defense wings, and 35 tactical wings and have an active inventory of 20,475 planes.

branch of government "should not create an atmosphere for the court that would not be conducive to deliberate and impartial consideration" of the SUB cases before it.

Under SUB plans, negotiated into labor contracts, employers set up a fund to compensate their workers beyond those benefits paid by the state in times of unemployment.

Thursday the high court will hear oral arguments on appeals on two SUB cases. The state appealed from Mahoning County court decisions holding that SUB payments could be made simultaneously with state unemployment benefits.

The proposed extension of the jobless benefit period from 26 to 39 weeks is aimed at workers who exhausted their benefits between last June 30 and April 1. Conferring with O'Neill were Sens. C. Stanley Mechem, Senate majority leader, Joseph Bartunek, Senate minority leader, and Reps. Roger Cloud, House speaker, and Kline L. Roberts, House majority leader.

in the Bahama Islands and the British West Indies.

Then came a confusing silence. In San Diego, Calif., where radio receptions brought first word that the United States' three other satellites were in orbit and had completed their first trips around the earth, listeners waited in vain.

Hours after the launching, a baffled Vanguard spokesman in Washington said "we honestly don't know" if the sphere went into orbit.

"We've had an abnormal flight," said Dr. Richard W. Porter, chairman of the Vanguard satellite panel.

There had been high optimism here until the continued silence at San Diego blasted all hopes of a successful launching.

The potential satellite—small in size by Soviet standards but big in scientific importance—made an impressive departure from earth in the nose of the 72-foot rocket.

Its mission was to determine how ultraviolet radiation from the sun snarls radio communication on earth and to find out if these same rays play a part in formation of hurricanes, tornadoes and thunderstorms.

Its findings were to be a part of this country's contribution to world knowledge in the International Geophysical Year.

Housed in the 20-inch ball were instruments designed to measure ultraviolet rays from the sun, especially during the gigantic electrical eruptions in the sun's atmosphere known as solar flares. When these flares occur, radio communication on earth sometimes is knocked out.

Some scientists suspect that these rays, by electrically charging the earth's atmosphere, may set up the violent air currents that give birth to destructive storms.

Three Motorists Draw Fines In Court Here

Three persons were fined a total of $110 Tuesday by Mayor Harold D. Smith for traffic violations. Fined were: Charles W. Messenger, 24, of 217 E. 6th St., $10, reckless operation; Larney Murray, 51, of Youngstown, $20, failure to display license plates, and Richard Murray, 19, of Youngstown, $10, unsafe vehicle, $20, no operator's license and $50, fictitious plates. Mayor Smith suspended $25 of the latter fine.

O'Neill Promises Study of Proposed Guilford Projects

Gov. C. William O'Neill promised a group of men representing the Columbiana County Federation of Sportsmen Clubs Tuesday in Columbus that the state will study a proposed pent-stock draining system and a method of corrective fish stocking at Guilford Lake.

Eight members of the CCFSC held a two-hour discussion with O'Neill and other state officials. The group met with the governor to discuss problems facing sportsmen in the county.

Countians attending were John Trombitas of Salem, State Representative Clarence "Dutch" Wetzel of Lisbon, Howard Adrian of East Liverpool, Marvin McCueen of Wellsville, William Ruby and John Tunnat and Peter Gwynne of Washingtonville. Gwynne is president of the CCFSC.

Other state officials present were H. B. Eagon, director of the department of natural resources; H. W. Olds, chief of the division of wild life and W. Owens, chief of the department of natural resources.

40 Members, Parents At Dairy Club Meeting

LISBON — Forty members and their parents attended the Columbiana County 4-H Dairy Club meeting Tuesday evening at the home of president Paul Zehentbauer near Dungannon.

A demonstration was given on trimming of hoofs and clipping of cattle. It was led by James Skeels, Salem RD 2.

The next meeting will be held June 17 at the home of Larry Hawkins, New Waterford RD 1.

Three Drivers Fined $70 by Judge Crawford

LISBON — Three motorists were fined a total of $70 and costs Tuesday night by County Judge Samuel Crawford on traffic charges. Fined were: Charles C. Ervin, 47, of East Chicago, Ind., $50, reckless operation; Robert Gunnoe, 40, of Forrest G. Judy, 40, of Canton, each $10, driving over freshly painted center lines. All arrests were made by the state highway patrol.

meeting that Prosecutor Brokaw will file an appeal based on the minutes of the Dec. 17 board meeting, at which time a counter-counter petition was rejected on the grounds that the board had already acted officially Nov. 26 on the original and counter petitions.

Elliott said he thought it would be futile to appeal Judge Buzard's decision and made a motion to drop plans for an appeal. It was seconded by Roger Stafford, but Ben Weingart, Harry Greenwood and Mrs. Freeman Strabley voted against the motion.

Prosecutor Brokaw told the board he thought the new Southern District organization was legal regardless of the outcome of the Hillcrest dispute.

He said after the county board formed the district comprised of Salineville, Wayne and Yellow Creek School districts, the only objection was raised by some people in the northern section of Wayne Local School District who wanted their children to go to Lisbon. However, the number of objectors was far from the required 55 per cent of the district necessary to halt the organization of the district.

Supt. James L. McBride said that also was the opinion of Robert Drury, counsel for the Ohio Education Association.

Greenwood then made motion to request Brokaw to get an attorney general's opinion. The motion was seconded by Mrs. Strabley, and it passed by a three to one vote.

Prosecutor Brokaw told the board he was perturbed with adverse newspaper publicity regarding discussion by board members at their last meeting on hiring other legal counsel. He said he had never neglected his duties and never refused to give legal advice to any county office. He said he supposed that if he had won all the school transfer cases, nothing would have been said.

He said if the board wants to hire another attorney, it may do so.

Meanwhile, he requested a member having a problem or complaint dealing with his office to come to him instead of airing the matter publicly.

A delegation of Hillcrest residents was present at last night's meeting.

The next regular board meeting will be June 17 at 8 p.m.

Autos in Mexico

By JACK RUTLEDGE
(For Hal Boyle)

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Those little European cars are not hurting the sales of U.S. autos in Mexico.

You see lots of European models darting in and out of the increasingly heavy traffic, but the Fords, Chevrolets and Plymouths still dominate.

There are several reasons.

All car imports are on a quota basis and American companies, which have long led Mexico's market, are holding to their percentages with government backing.

Mexicans like the flashy American car, the gaudier the better. Americans may complain of flair and fins, but Mexicans ask for more.

Power and driving range are important in a country where service stations are sometimes 100 miles apart and many major highways circle 10,000-foot mountains.

Also the larger car is preferred by many who like to pack a family of 10 into the machine for a picnic or a trip. Thousands are converted into buses and taxis.

Mexico is one of Detroit's better foreign customers. In 1956

Mexico bought some 46,000 cars, trucks and buses.

For economic reasons the quota has been cut sharply. This year it stands at around 35,000 cars.

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler all have large assembly plants here. They get about three fourths the quota. Studebaker, Rambler and Packard account for much of the balance.

European makes trail, Fiat, assembled here in its new plant, probably accounts for five per cent. Volkswagen is next.

Mexican dealers beg for more cars.

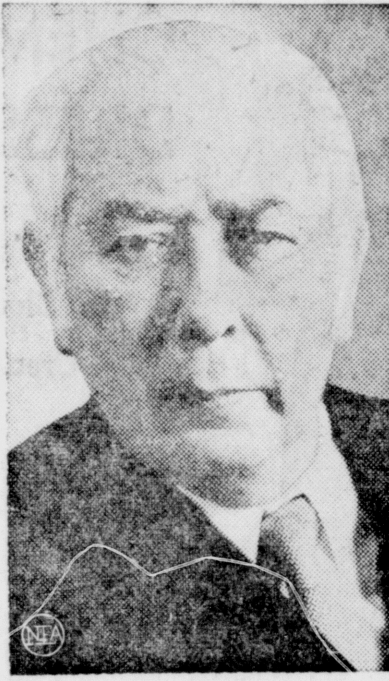

"We could sell nine times as many as the quota allows," said a Ford representative.

But the government, to save its dollars, says no.

The duty amounts to around 110 per cent. Any of the lower-priced three cost almost as much as a small Cadillac in the United States.

The official import total actually is deceptive. Mexico really buys more than 35,000 cars. One newspaper recently estimated that 45,000 more are brought in annually by individuals — through special privileges or by smuggling.

The first Winter Olympics were held in Chamonix, France, in 1924.

Dispute With Building Unions Spreading in Cleveland Area

CLEVELAND (AP)—A wage dispute involving some 20,000 workers in Cuyahoga, Lake, Geauga and Lorain counties, employed by the Building Trades Employers Assn. (BTEA) on industrial construction are assured of rounding out this month in idleness. Tuesday their union representatives and the employers recessed their deadlocked negotiations until Monday.

The Home Builders Assn. of Greater Cleveland voted Tuesday to have its 600 member contractors stop construction of about 5,000 houses worth an estimated 100 million dollars. That move will idle both sides rejected a suggestion by Cleveland Mayor Anthony

J. Celebrezze, who is serving as a mediator, that work be resumed while bargaining continued.

The Home Builders Assn. (HBA) has not yet begun its round of wage negotiations with the Building Trades Council (BTC) which is bargaining with the BTEA on behalf of 19 different craft unions. The HBA wanted to be a party to that bargaining but was rebuffed. In the past, the HBA claims, it has had little choice but to accept a pattern set in the BTEA settlement.

In a prepared statement, James Liebrock, executive vice president of the HBA said:

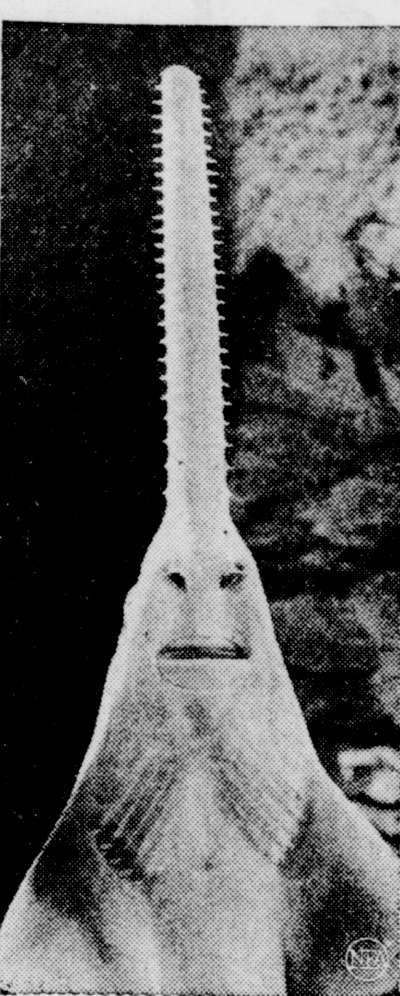

"All members of the HBA declared that the present situation requires closing down all operations at once by each builder member affected by this alarming and chaotic condition.

"Builders must know their prospective cost and have assurance of uninterrupted production before they can incur financing liabilities, sub-contract work and establish prices.

"In view of the foregoing economic situation, together with the threat of strike and unreasonable wages being arbitrarily forced upon our members one by one, it is economically not feasible to continue to operate until this association can bargain collectively and economic confidence can be restored."

In the BTEA-BTC negotiations, the unions rejected a nine-cent-an-hour raise proposed by Mayor Celebrezze as a compromise and have reverted to their original demand for a 25-cent hourly hike. Most of the top trades now are bracketed at $3.74 an hour.

Maude Adams, noted actress, made her New York debut in "The Paymaster" at the Star Theater in 1888.

BOO! — Though he's not an "earth" creature, this is no character from outer space. It's just a baby sawfish in the Seaquarium in Miami, Fla. That isn't a face, either. Those staring, heavy-lidded "eyes" are really gills. The eyes are on the other side.

Election Expenses Filed by Lisbon Man

EAST LIVERPOOL — John F. Kelly of Lisbon RD, Democratic nominee for state representative, has submitted a report to the County Election Board showing his campaign for the May 6 primaries cost $15.

Kelly is the latest to file the sworn statement of receipts and expenditures required under the "Corrupt Practices Act," which puts a ceiling on campaign spending. The reports are required of all candidates, whether or not they were successful, and from committees and individuals that supported or opposed any candidate or issue. The deadline is June 20. Meanwhile, the Columbiana County Republican Central and Executive Committee reported it spent nothing in advance of the primary. The report was filed by Charles A. Pike of Lisbon, treasurer.

Ohio to Use Traction Tester on Highways

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Department of Highways workers will skid around on state roads this summer so they can make them safer.

Traffic and the weather in time smooth and polish concrete roads, making them slicker in rainy weather.

The department is building a device that will tell exactly when the danger point in slipperiness comes—so workers with special machines can move in and rough up the road surface.

Here's how the traction tester will work:

Wheels of a trailer skid when special brake are applied as a truck pulls the device over the road. Friction between the trailer tires and the road is measured and recorded.

Two large drums of water carried on the truck sprinkle the road in front of each trailer tire.

Old Dutch Defeats Herron's; Salona Tramples Sportsmen

Ed Duko Paces Dairy Queen To 9-2 Win Over Jack's Bar

Old Dutch defeated Herron's 4-1 and Dairy Queen whipped Jack's Bar 9-2 in two Class AA games and the Salona Roofers blasted the Sportsmen Club 9-3 in a single Class A contest at Kelley Park Tuesday night.

Bill Buckman notched his third straight win of the season for Old Dutch as he set down Herron's with but two hits while fanning 12.

Herron's hits were a homerun by Jerry Weizeneker and a double by Ed Weber.

Old Dutch got six hits off losing pitcher John Shelton including two by Sam Pridon. His raps were good for two RBIs.

The winners iced the game with a three-run surge in the third on two Herron errors and a single by Pridon.

Four hits by Ed Duko paced Dairy Queen over Jack's. The winners other big stick man was Ken Schoeni who homered against the scoreboard in the fifth frame.

Jack's got only four hits off winning pitcher Satch Altomare while the victors got 12 off Gould, including two each by Stittle and Barnes.

Jack's had seven errors which raised their total to 15 in the past two games.

Glenn Scattergood was the big noise for Salona in its victory. He clouted two homeruns and a double, good for four RBIs.

The winners scored in every inning but the fifth. Jack also had three hits for the victors.

The Sportsmen got only five hits off Wickline, including two each by Bob Pagar and Jim Boone, the losing hurler.

The losers had eight errors.

Spahn, now 7-1, can set a major League record for lefthanders by bagging his ninth 20-victory season. He now shares the record with former American Leaguer Bob (Lefty) Grove.

The Braves closed within a game of first-place San Francisco, beaten 5-1 at Philadelphia, while third-place Pittsburgh moved within four games of the top with a 5-3 victory over Los Angeles. Cincinnati defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-3 in 10 innings.

In the American League, Kansas City snapped Bob Turley's unbeaten string at seven games and jumped into second place, 8½ games behind New York, by belting the Yankees 7-3, Detroit defeated Boston 6-0, the Chicago White Sox trimmed Washington 7-3 and Cleveland beat Baltimore 7-6 in 10 innings.

Rip Repulski slammed a three-run homer in the first for the Phils against losing Giant starter Stu Miller and Jack Sanford eased home while allowing 10 hits for a 4-4 record.

A bases-loaded single by Don Hoak gave the Redlegs an unearned tie - breaking run in the 10th against reliever Don Elston, now 5-2. Hal Jeffcoat won it in relief of Brooks Lawrence, who failed to finish for the seventh time in 10 starts. Home runs by Jerry Lynch and Frank Robinson gave the Redlegs a tie after the Cubs counted three in the fourth, two on Walt Moryn's homer.

The Pirates counted 10 hits - the first six for extra bases - while handing Don Drysdale his eighth defeat against two victories. Ron Kline won his sixth, but needed Ron Blackburn's relief help in the ninth.

Thistledown to Open 44 Days of Racing

CLEVELAND (AP) - Thistledown opens 44 days of racing today with the $3,000 Mayor's Cup, a five-furlong race for three-year-olds, as the opening day feature.

About 1,300 horses are on hand for the meeting, which will offer a total of some $800,000 in purses. The big one is the $27,500 Ohio Derby on June 21. On the final Saturday of the meeting, July 12, the $10,000 Thistledown Handicap will be run.

Post time of 2 p.m. is earlier than in recent years.

TRACK: SLOPPY - There are two ways to dress for a track meet on a rainy Sunday afternoon. Little Jim O'Leary, 21 months, is dressed for comfort, not speed, at the Metropolitan Association-Middle Atlantic Assn. meet at Randall's Island in New York. Royal Vhernock of New Hyde Park, N.Y., is clad more conventionally. Chernocek placed third in the 440-yard hurdles.

MINNIE'S OUT STEALING—A throw from Boston Red Sox catcher Sammy White to second baseman Don Buddin catches the Indians' Minnie Minoso as he tried to steal second in the eighth inning in the game at Cleveland's Municipal Stadium. However, Minoso hit a homer in the 12th inning to give the Indians the win, 3-2.

A's Register 7-3 Victory Over Yankees

By The Associated Press
Bob Cerv, who became a hefty hitter by shedding some weight, seems to have mad Bob Turley his favorite target as the Kansas City Athletics make their bid to tie the scale against the New York Yankees this season.

The slugging outfielder, down to a trim 204 or so after sweating off about 10 pounds, crashed his second home run off the no-windup right-hander and drove in four runs as the band of ex-Yankees cracked the varsity 7-3.

Turley, whose season-opening string of shutout innings was junked at 19 by Cerv's home run as the A's lost 8-1 in New York May 2, had given up only six earned runs while completing each of his starts. He had a 7-0 record going into Tuesday night's game at Kansas City.

This time, he lasted only five innings, giving up six runs—three on Cerv's first-inning homer.

The victory hoisted the A's past Boston into second place behind the American League leading Yankees. The Red Sox lost 3-2 at Detroit. Cleveland defeated Baltimore 7-6 in 10 innings and the Chicago White Sox beat Washington 7-3.

In the National League, Philadelphia beat the San Francisco Giants 5-1 while second-place Milwaukee beat St. Louis 3-2 on Joe Adcock's pinch homer in the ninth. Cincinnati defeated three Chicago Cubs 4-3 in 10 innings and Pittsburgh beat Los Angeles 5-3.

A pair of unearned runs, on Frank Malzone's error, gave the Tigers the edge in the sixth. But Vito Valentini, recalled from the minors Saturday, had to strike out pinch hitter Gene Stephens after Bill Renna's RBI double in the fourth victory. Ted Williams homered in the fourth. Tom Brewer was the loser.

A bases-loaded walk by relief pitcher Billy O'Dell handed the Orioles their sixth straight defeat after J. W. Porter's first homer of the year had given the Indians a 6-6 tie in the ninth. Hoyt Wilhelm won his first in relief.

Early Wynn (5-2) won his fourth in a row for the White Sox, but gave 10 hits and needed relief in the ninth. Four runs in the fourth, two scoring on an error and the other pair on Wynn's single, bagged it against Hal Griggs.

Tribe's Ferrarese Back on Injured List

CLEVELAND (AP) - Cleveland pitcher Don Ferrarese, laid up with a sore shoulder until a few days ago, went back to the Indians' injured list today with a sprained right ankle.

The little left-hander twisted his ankle and collapsed while fielding Al Pilarcik's roller in the seventh inning of Tuesday night's Baltimore - Cleveland game. Ferrarese will be out of action a week or 10 days.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

RUFUS L. LIDE

Late spring brings forth new born animals such as quail, pheasants and the continuous production line of little bunny rabbits. The predators are on the prowl also taking their annual toll of birds and animals.

Cats, dogs, mink, weasel, skunk, raccoon, black snakes and birds of prey, not to overlook both red and grey foxes, are all predators who prey on creatures of nature.

We don't actually witness the way nature provides for their survival but it goes on. Nothing much can be done to control and protect our preferred forms of animal life, particularly the kind hunters seek during the open season.

EVEN THE BIRD lovers cannot prevent the tiny little house wren from puncturing the eggs of other birds that nest too close to what they consider their segregated area. They want no other bird associates except their own kind. This leads to the subject of animal and bird-nappers.

Right away I begin getting calls from people reporting little baby raccoons in distress and that it fell out of a den tree. Others were dug up while doing some excavating. The mother was killed and three little babies survived. All want permits to keep them. There is no doubt about the honesty and sincerity of people who report such incidents to the nearest game protector.

There is a question when the "coon-nappers" obtain these little animals and then call the game protector a week or so later because someone said, "you better not get caught with them out of season."

The old excuses, "the mother was killed," "they were on the highway when I picked them up" and "surely they would be killed" and others are always used.

PEOPLE become predators as well as wild birds and animals in most instances. The sad part of it is, man becomes wildlife's worst enemy because they want wild pets. Yet man is supposed to be intelligent and understand that wild things prefer the wilds.

True, wild animals can be happy when reared as pets. There is only one difference. There is a law on wild birds and animals kept in captivity.

If animals or birds are in distress, call your nearest game protector. It is his job to handle the tragedy and make the proper disposition according to the provisions of reverting these creatures back into the wilds where they belong. Taking birds or animals during

Memorial Day Classic Set At Canfield

Two big racing events are coming up at Canfield Speedway this week.

Friday afternoon, the ninth annual Memorial Day 100-mile will be staged on the half-mile track. Saturday night, the modified bombs will compete in a 50-lap duel on the quarter-mile oval.

Some 55 new cars will be here Friday and half of these are 1958 models. Time trials start at 11 a.m. and the 40 fastest qualifiers will begin the long grind at 2:30 p.m.

Three drivers will be making their sixth bid for a title. They are Mike Klapak, outstanding Warren driver who will be driving a 1957 Ford; Russ Hepler of Clanton, Pa., in a 1958 Pontiac, and Roy Gemberling of Kent, driving a 1957 Dodge.

Hepler was the winner of the Memorial Day race here in 1956. Friday's race will be the fifth here for Bob James, the MARC pilot from Montrose, and Nook Walters of Niles who will drive a 1956 Ford.

Bob Coucher of Monroe, Mich., will be making his fourth showing in a 1956 Ford and Paul Wensink of Deshler, O., in a 1956 Plymouth.

Another previous winner, Jack Farris of New Paris, O., is also entered. He has a 1958 Mercury.

One of the most noted pilots will be Tom Pistone who will bring in his 1957 Chevrolet from Chicago.

James, along with Nelson Stacy of Cincinnati and Iggy Katona of Lambertville, Mich., are waging a torrid duel for the MARC point leadership.

At present Stacy has a slim lead, but James won the Elyria last Sunday to move up. Katona is the defending MARC champ and pilots a 1958 Ford.

Gates for Friday's event open at 10:30 a.m.

Tribe Scores 7-6 Win Over Orioles in 10 Innings

Porter's Homer Ties Tilt in 9th

Cal McLish to Hurl Against Baltimore

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians are back to that late inning—or extra inning—formula for winning ball games.

They did it again Tuesday night. This time they tied the score the hard way, then won it the easy way with a bases loaded walk in the 10th inning to defeat Baltimore 7-6.

Trailing 6-4 in the bottom of the ninth against pitcher Billy Loes, the Tribe's Billy Harrell opened with a walk. When Manager Bobby Bragan sent Roger Maris, a left-handed swinger, up to pinch-hit against the right-handed throwing Loes, Baltimore Manager Paul Richards brought in southpaw Bill O'Dell from the bullpen.

Bragan then sent J. W. Porter up to bat for Maris, who hadn't even picked up the bat yet. Porter drilled one of O'Dell's servings well over the fence in left center-field 400 feet away.

That tied the score 6-6 and sent the game into overtime.

In the 10th, Preston Ward got his fourth hit, a ground single to center. After two unsuccessful bunt attempts, Chico Carrasquel looped a single into short center and Ward hustled to third.

Russ Nixon went down swinging on three pitches. Billy Harrell, who had homered with a man aboard for Cleveland in the sixth, was intentionally walked, to load the bases.

O'Dell then fanned Dick Brown, also on three pitches.

O'Dell's control suddenly deserted him, and he tossed four straight wide pitches to Mickey Vernon and Ward romped across with the winning tally.

Incidentally, Ward's four hits—the second time he has done it this season—boosted his batting average to .393 tops in the American League.

The Indians had 11 hits, all singles but for the homers by Harrell and Porter. Five Tribe pitchers were whacked for 14 Baltimore safeties, eight off starter Jim (Mudcat) Grant in 2-2-3 innings.

Hoyt Wilhelm, who hurled the 10th frame, received credit for his first victory of the season. O'Dell dropped his sixth in 10 decisions.

Brooks Robinson, Baltimore third baseman, also had four hits—a triple, double and a pair of singles.

Closing up the current home stand against the Orioles today, with a victory needed to come out on the plus side of the ledger after splitting 10 games, the Indians send Cal McLish (1-1) against Baltimore's Jack Harshman (5-2).

Wilt Chamberlain Tells of Respect For Celts' Russell

NEW YORK (AP)—Beanpole Wilt Chamberlain says Big Bill Russell is the pro basketball player I want the least truck with.

"If I had to make a list of the pro players I fear most I would put Russell on the bottom of the list," the two-time All America from the University of Kansas added. Then he caught himself.

"At the bottom, I mean, because he's one man I don't want any part of."

The 7-foot basketball marvel, who announced last week he was quitting college to launch a 160-game barnstorming tour, told a press conference of his distaste for college basketball, his disgust with efforts to penalize him and his plans for entering the National Basketball Assn. in 1959 as a member of the Philadelphia Warriors.

"I don't mean I think pro basketball is going to be easier but I just don't believe the pros will concentrate on one man as they do in college," Wilt said. "I am sure I will be much happier."

Chamberlain said he feared Russell, the 1956 Olympic star from the University of San Francisco who led the Boston Celtics to the NBA Eastern title last winter, because of Russell's defensive ability.

Rigney Says Rookies, Spencer Major Reasons For Success

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Among the wonderful things that have happened to the San Francisco Giants this season was not having to play in the Polo Grounds, their former home in New York.

That is what Manager Billy Rigney said today as he tried to explain why the surprising Giants were leading the National League.

"Two of our biggest surprises," he said, "have been Orlando Cepeda and Jim Davenport, our rookie first and third basemen. Another revelation has been the nitting of Daryl Spencer, our shortstop. Cepeda and Spencer each has hit 12 home runs so far."

"I'm sure neither would have done nearly as well had the Giants still been in the Polo Grounds. Those short fences proved a handicap to Spencer and I feel they would have been just as much of a handicap to Cepeda. Orlando has tremendous power—as much as anybody on the club—but he is not a pull hitter. His power is to left center and right center. He's hit several long 400-foot homers in San Francisco but they would only have been long outs in the Polo Grounds. Such things tend to discourage young ballplayers."

"It took Spencer two years to find that out," Rigney added, "and then he still wasn't convinced. He hit a few home runs his first year with the Giants and he got to pulling every ball. I had a tough job convincing him that he'd never amount to a great deal as a hitter unless he learned to hit to the opposite field. He finally began to see the light last year—at least I thought he did—but toward the end of the season, he was back trying to pull again."

"Any young player, unless he's a dead pull hitter, faces a handicap at the Polo Grounds. He takes one look at the short fences and tries to take dead aim with every swing. All he gets for his efforts, however, are long fly ball outs. Look at Willie Mays. How many homers did he hit at the Polo Grounds. Most of his homers were hit on the road."

Champions Pick Bryan To Win at Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Members of the Champion 100 Mile an Hour Club are picking Jimmy Bryan of Phoenix, Ariz., to win the 42nd 500-mile race at Indianapolis Motor Speedway Friday.

A poll of 21 members of the most exclusive group in auto racing showed six votes for Bryan, four for Jim Rathmann of Miami and two each for Pat O'Connor of North Vernon, Ind., Jimmy Reece of Indianapolis and Rodger Ward of Los Angeles.

Single votes went to Don Freeland of Indianapolis, Bob Vieth of Oakland, Calif., Johnny Parsons of Van Nuys, Calif., and A. J. Foyt of Houston, Tex.

Parsons, the 1950 winner, who voted for himself, guessed the highest winning average, a record 137.5 miles an hour.

Redlegs Nip Cubs 4-3 in 10 Innings

CINCINNATI (AP)—Don Hoak is always at his best when the pressure is on and this trait is beginning to make a difference again for Cincinnati's Redlegs.

For example, the Redlegs had sprayed a dozen hits around Crosley Field Tuesday night in the first nine innings of a game with Chicago's Cubs. But all they could earn was a 3-3 tie.

The Rhinelanders had punched out at least one hit in every inning but the eighth and still had trouble capitalizing on them.

But in the 10th, things improved. Dee Fondy started with a single. George Crowe hit what looked like an easy little nubber to first-sacker Paul Smith. He muffed it and threw wildly to second base. Result: Redlegs on second and third.

The Cubs elected to walk Ed Bailey to fill the bases and push to Hoak.

A mistake, Hoak punched out a hard single and the Reds had a 4-3 victory.

The Redleg hitting rampage was a little disorganized but it lent support to the idea the team is now out of a recent slump.

Two runs were accounted for by homers—by Jerry Lynch in the third inning and Frankie Robinson in the fifth.

The Reds had finally pulled even, 3-3, in the sixth when Crowe singled and after the next two men fled out, scored on Gus Bell's double.

All three Cub runs—including a two-run homer by Wally Moryn—came off Redleg starter Brooks Lawrence in the fourth inning. But except for that, he pitched flawlessly. The Cub uprising included five of Chicago's seven hits.

Joe Nuxhall doled out only one hit in three relief innings and Hal Jeffcoat picked up the victory after a one-hit performance in the 10th.

The Cubs play one more game in the current series here tonight, with Dick Drott slated to oppose Bob Purkey on the mound.

Combined Membership Over 3 Million

Two Presbyterian Churches to Merge

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Those historically scrappy Presbyterians patch up an old fuss today—and mold two churches into one.

They're forming "the United Presbyterian Church of the U.S.A.," which becomes the fourth largest body in American Protestantism.

Twin processions of robed delegates marching to a common rendezvous point will symbolize the emerging of the two strands of their tradition.

The ceremonies will be climaxed by sharing of the Lord's Supper.

Joining forces are the United Presbyterian Church and the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., with a combined membership of more than three million.

"A happy and historic occasion," says the Rev. Dr. Robert N. Montgomery, of Bloomington, Ill., moderator of the U.S.A. church.

It marks the end of a breakup that started more than 200 years ago in Scotland, and has erupted in various cleavages since then.

The Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., popularly referred to as Northern Presbyterians, also includes some Southern churches, as well as congregations throughout the rest of the nation—a total of 8,489.

The United Presbyterians, strongest in Ohio and Pennsylvania, have 973 congregations. To obtain this equipment at the Me include 9,462 churches.

Dr. Montgomery said "we shall hope and pray" that the quest for unity "may be in the lifetime of many of us bring about our union with our fellow Presbyterians in the Southern church."

There are eight other relatively small Presbyterian bodies.

Holiday Will Delay Jobless Pay Checks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Some 20,000 persons drawing state unemployment benefits, about one-fifth of those filing claims, will have their weekly check delayed a week because of the Memorial Day holiday.

James Tichenor, director of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, said Tuesday the 20,000 normally report their status on Friday. But this Friday, Memorial Day, BUC offices throughout the state will be closed.

He said, however, that the following week they can file for two weeks and then receive a double benefit check.

Tichenor said he arrived at this plane because he felt if he attempted to reschedule the Friday claimants throughout the first four days of his week, the added load would disturb the cycle for all of the unemployed.

He explained that by having the 20,000 wait a week, although financially difficult for them, the inconvenience will only last about four or five days. But if they were rescheduled, he said he feared the operation of his office would be disturbed for nearly a month.

He said the office is now working at its capacity and machines are in operation 18 hours a day.

3 Die as Jets Collide Over New Mexico Base

CLOVIS, N. M. (P) — Three pilots died Tuesday in the collision of two Super Sabre Jets over Cannon Air Force Base.

A two-seater F100F and a single seat F100 D collided while the F100F was making an emergency landing.

The dead were identified by the Air Force as Capt. William R. Gilmore, 30, Interlaken, N.Y.; Lt. William R. Jarmon, 24, North Arlington, Va.; and Lt. Leslie Ikeda, 23, Honolulu. Gilmore and Jarmon were in the two-seater.

The base said the F100 F was at a "pretty low altitude" making an emergency landing approach because of radio failure.

The word "milliner" comes from Milan, Italy, which at one time set the fashions throughout the world.

Vote Fraud Being Probed In Pickaway

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Charges of vote-buying and underage voting are being investigated here by the Pickaway County Board of Elections.

The board announced it is going to investigate the charges more thoroughly after a hearing Tuesday night brought varying testimony.

The vote-buying charge originated in a newspaper story by James I. Smith II, a reporter for the Circleville Herald, said in his story he saw a man give money to a voter before the latter entered the fourth ward, precinct D here during the May 6 primary election.

Smith testified that Leslie Brown, a Circleville bartender, gave the money to Ralph Dollison, but the two men denied the charges at the hearing.

A veteran precinct worker, Miss Lucille Dumm, told the board she and other precinct workers knew there was vote-buying going on and had discussed it.

But a judge in the precinct, Mrs. Rosalie Turner, said she did not see any indications of vote-buying.

Also reported at the hearing was that an 18-year-old girl, Miss Barbara Wolfe, was allowed to vote in precinct D.

Workers said they were not aware the girl was under voting age until after she had voted. When it was discovered, said they reported it immediately.

The girl refused to testify on grounds it might incriminate her. Following the complete investigation by the board it will submit a report to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown who ordered the hearing. Brown is the state's chief elections officer.

County Prosecutor Ray M. Davis, who conducted the hearing, did not indicate whether he will file any formal charges.

Evangelist to Share Spotlight With Graham

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mordecai Ham, the evangelist who led Billy Graham to "decide for Christ" at a tent meeting 24 years ago, will share the spotlight with him tonight.

The 85-year-old Ham will fly from Louisville, Ky., his home, to speak at the Cow Palace on the 28th day of the Bay area crusade. Graham was 15 when he heard Ham at Montreal, N.C.

Graham addressed a crowd of 15,500 in the 16,500-seat arena Tuesday night, asking them to "avoid deceiving pretenses."

Tuesday noon he spoke in front of the Oakland, Calif., City Hall. Police estimated 12,000 heard him.

4 Surviving Dionne Quintuplets 24 Today

MONTREAL (AP) — The four surviving Dionne quintuplets are 24 today but any plans for birthday celebrations are their secret.

The girls — Annette, Cecile, Yvonne and Marie — all live in the Montreal area. But efforts to reach them or persons close to them for information about their birthday plans have met with no success.

This is the girls' fourth birthday without Emilie, frailest of the five, who died Aug. 6, 1954, during an epileptic seizure.

Press Club of Ohio Holds Gridiron Show

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Politicians and government officials received their annual ribbing by member of the Press Club of Ohio Tuesday night in the club's Gridiron show.

State Rep. John M. Ashbrook (R-Licking), national president of the Young Republican Clubs, walked off with "top honors" when he was given the "boner award" for a mistake which cost him a place on the May 6 primary ballot.

Ashbrook, publisher of the weekly Johnstown Independent, was a candidate for renomination for a second term in the Ohio House. But he made a technical error on his nominating petitions and was ruled off the ballot. However, a sweeping write-in vote got him renominated anyway.

Almost 400 men attended the stag dinner and show in the Deshler Hilton Hotel ballroom while 125 women club members, wives of members and their female friends dined in the Victorian room and enjoyed the show via closed circuit television.

The show, which included 29 skits and songs, featured the "unruly" of Democratic gubernatorial candidate Michael DiSalle.

Last year DiSalle was "buried" after his 1956 defeat by Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill, but Tuesday night the Toledoan was resurrected to haunt O'Neill again.

In the skits, the newsmen also poked fun at O'Neill by satirizing his primary contest with "standby" candidate Charles P. Taft, who unsuccessfully ran for the GOP gubernatorial nomination, and the governor's trip to the Rose Bowl football game last Jan. 1.

Variety Keynotes Apple-Rhubarb Crisp

One of our favorite desserts is the classic Apple Crisp, and once you've made this easy-to-do recipe it will become a real standby in your file.

It lends itself not only to complete acceptance by the whole family, but may be served "as is" to company, or dressed up in many ways.

Apple-Rhubarb Crisp may be accompanied with whipped cream, nutmeg flavored, or a scoop of peppermint ice cream on each serving. We'll guarantee you won't have any of this one left over!

Apple Rhubarb Crisp

2 cups pared and peeled Win-sap apples, finely cut, 2 cups rhubarb, washed and finely cut, 2 eggs separated, 1 cup granulated sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Place finely cut apple and rhubarb in a bowl, set aside. Sift sugar, flour and salt together; finally sift into fruit. Beat egg yolks until lemon colored, stir into the flour mixture.

Beat egg whites until stiff and then fold gently into the fruit mixture.

Transfer to greased casserole and spread with the following crumbly topping:

Topping:
1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup flour, sifted, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 cup butter, 1/2 cup chopped nuts.

Sift sugar, flour, and spices together, then crumble the butter into the dry ingredients, when well mixed, but still in the "pebbly" state, add chopped nuts.

Sprinkle topping over apple-rhubarb mixture, covering well. Bake in 375 degree oven for 30-40 minutes. Serves 8 generously.

Cucumber Salad

Ingredients: 1 cucumber about 8 inches long, 1 1/2 tablespoons olive oil, 1 tablespoon cider vinegar, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1/2 teaspoon of salt, salad greens.

Method: Pare cucumber; draw the sharp tines of a fork down entire length of cucumber for scalloped effect; slice thin. With a fork beat olive oil, vinegar, sugar and salt together in a shallow wide container; add cucumber and mix well.

Cover and refrigerate for a few hours; turn cucumber in marinade a few times. Serve with salad greens. Makes 4 servings.

Parmesan Macaroni

Ingredients: 1 package (7 ounces) elbow macaroni, 1/4 cup (half of a one-quarter pound stick) butter, 1/4 to 1/2 cup freshly grated Parmesan cheese.

Method: Cook macaroni according to package directions; drain in colander; turn out on heated serving dish. Immediately add the butter and grated cheese; toss thoroughly with two forks until butter is melted and cheese evenly distributed. Serve at once.

Makes 4 servings. Romano cheese may be used instead of the Parmesan. Tossing with butter and cheese may be done in the dry saucepan or kettle in which the macaroni was cooked, over extremely low heat if desired.

Bavarian Pears

(Yield: 6-8 servings)

Eight canned pear halves, 1 cup pear syrup, 1 tablespoon aromatic bitters, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, 1 package cherry-flavored gelatin, 1 cup heavy cream, whipped, 8 lady fingers.

Drain pears. Remove 1 cup pear syrup and stir in aromatic bitters and lemon juice. Dissolve cherry-flavored gelatin in 1 cup hot water. Add syrup mixture and chill until almost set. Whip cream and fold into gelatin. Pour into wet ring mold and carefully insert pear halves along side of mold, standing on small end. Place lady finger between pears. Chill until firm. Unmold and serve.

Let that roast chicken stand for about 20 minutes after removing it from the oven to absorb juices and make carving easy.

Beef and Broccoli

Ingredients: 1 pound flank steak (partly frozen), 4 teaspoons sugar, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1 tablespoon cooking sherry, 2 tablespoons dark imported soy sauce, 1 clove garlic (crushed), 1 teaspoon minced fresh ginger, 1/2 bunch of young broccoli, boiling water, 2 tablespoons peanut oil.

Method: Cut flank steak in half lengthwise; trim off any thick layer of fat. Slice across grain so pieces are 1 1/2 inches wide and 1/4-inch thick; there should be about 1/4 pound now. Mix sugar, cornstarch, sherry, soy sauce, garlic and ginger on plate; toss steak in mixture. Pare off outer covering of broccoli stalks with swivel blade vegetable peeler.

Cover broccoli with boiling water in kettle; over high heat bring water to full boil again; boil 1 minute; cover and let stand in hot water off heat.

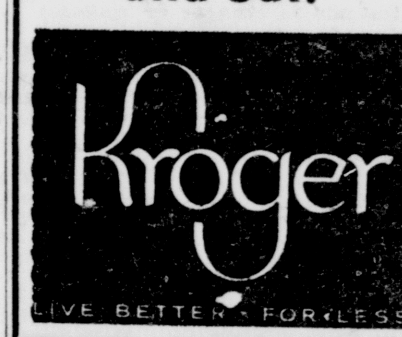

Heat a 10-inch heavy skillet; add oil; when very hot add meat and seasonings and any marinade not absorbed. Cook rapidly until very brown without stirring; turn with wide spatula and brown other side.

Drain broccoli reserving 1-3 cup of the cooking water; arrange on serving platter. With slotted spoon place beef over broccoli. Add 1-3 cup broccoli water to drippings in skillet; boil rapidly, stirring constantly to get up drippings, until beef and broccoli.

Serve at once. Makes 4 servings. More than 1/2 bunch of the broccoli may be used.

THE GREAT ATLANTIC & PACIFIC TEA COMPANY

Try Peanut Sauce with Chicken

Surprise, surprise—young chicken combined with crunchy peanuts. And both ingredients are in plentiful supply.

This adventurous recipe uses economical instant nonfat dry milk too, another budget item. Actually, the nonfat milk is pasteurized milk with only the fat and water removed and is, therefore, a good source of important nutrients—protein, calcium and riboflavin. The family-size package makes 12 quarts of nonfat milk for about 8 cents a quart.

Chicken With Peanuts

(Makes 4 servings)

One (3 to 3 1/2 pound) chicken, cut into 8 pieces, salt, pepper, 1/4 cup olive oil, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 medium-size onion, sliced; 3 cups water, 1/2 cup instant nonfat dry milk powder, 3 tablespoons of flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup chopped roasted peanuts.

Wash chicken; dry; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Reserve giblets and neck. Heat olive oil and butter in heavy skillet; brown chicken over medium heat on both sides. Cover tightly; reduce heat to low and simmer about 1 hour. Place giblets, neck, onion and water in saucepan; bring to a boil; reduce heat to low and simmer until giblets are tender, about 1 hour. Remove giblets and neck; add to chicken. Strain liquid; add water to make 2 1/2 cups. Sprinkle instant nonfat dry milk powder, flour, salt and pepper over surface. Beat with rotary beater until just blended.

Cook over very low heat, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened. Stir in peanuts. Pour off fat from skillet; return 1 tablespoonful to pan. Pour peanut sauce over chicken; cook over low heat about 15 minutes.

Cherry Salad

Ingredients: 1 can (1 pound) dark sweet pitted cherries, diced celery, 2 large oranges, 1 large lemon, boiling water, 1 package (3 ounces) cherry-flavored gelatin salad greens, mayonnaise and pecans (optional).

Method: Drain cherries thoroughly. Cut a small slit in each cherry and stuff with a couple of small pieces of the diced celery; cover and refrigerate. Squeeze juice from oranges and lemon and add to cherry syrup; add enough boiling water to make 2 cups. Heat until very hot. Pour at once over cherry-flavored gelatin and stir until dissolved. Chill until slightly thickened, stirring several times.

Carefully fold in the stuffed cherries and turn into one large or small individual molds. Chill until set. Unmold and garnish with salad greens—water cress is especially good to use. Add an extra garnish of mayonnaise and pecans if desired, or pass mayonnaise separately. Makes 6 servings.

until tender when cooking fork inserted in center turns easily.

Drain; insert whole cloves, about 1 inch apart, over entire surface of butt. Place on small oven-heat-resistant glass platter or other shallow baking pan. Mix together the honey, mustard and ground ginger; spread over butt. Place in slow (325 degrees) oven about 20 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

COLUMBIANA

Class of 1908 To Be Special Guests At Graduation Exercises

COLUMBIANA — Members of the Columbian high school class of 1908 will be special guests at commencement exercises tonight for the class of 1953.

It will mark the first time since graduation 50 years ago that the class members have assembled. They will be introduced during the commencement program which is set for 8 p.m. at Firestone Park stadium. In the event of bad weather, the ceremony will be held at the high school auditorium with admission by ticket only.

The '08 class will assemble before commencement for a dinner at Grace Church. Class members are Mrs. Mabel Wining Math-er, Leo E. Holloway and Mrs. Cora Fisher Henry of Columbiana; David E. Lehman and Robert Culp of Youngstown, Mrs. Olive Rosell Patterson of Alliance, Miss Hattie Hyland of Cleveland and Mrs. Lucille Breckenridge Bandy of Whittier, Cal. Only deceased member of the class is Mrs. Carrie Harold Rohrer.

ROTARY CLUB members toured the Columbian Floral Co. following their dinner Monday evening. The manager, George Grein-er, explained new methods in rose culture developed since the club's last inspection of the premises several years ago.

Three visiting Rotarians attended the session: Terry Nash of East Palestine, Whitney Ingraham of Lisbon and Eugene Smith of Boardman.

Students from the high school music department provided the program for the Kiwanis Club meeting at Heck's Restaurant Monday evening. All were winners of superior ratings in district and state contests. Featured were a girls' ensemble, cornet trio, clarinet trio and trumpet solo.

GREEN THUMB Garden Club will meet at 10:30 a.m. Thursday at Pavilion 4 in Firestone Park for its annual spring cleanup and plantings at the park. Lunch will be served by Mrs. Elmer Coyte, Mrs. Wayne Hoover and Mrs. Curtis Bierley.

The Columbian Catholic Women's Guild will sponsor a public benefit card party at 8 p.m. Wednesday at Valley Golf Club. Prizes and refreshments will be featured for the annual fund-raising project.

Police May Testify In Murder Trial Of Hamilton Man

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Police may get a chance today to testify about a written confession that has already struck sparks in the murder trial of Shirley Edward Campbell, 22, husky former hospital orderly.

In Tuesday's opening statements, defense attorney Harvey B. Woods asserted that Campbell was questioned for 20 hours before he signed the statement.

Woods told the jury, "It will be up to you to decide whether or not this is a valid confession."

Campbell, who is white, is accused of hurling a young Negro patient off the roof of Mercy Hospital here after she fought off his advances. The victim, Miss Sylvesta Gertrude Andy, 20, also a student nurse, fell 75 feet to her death last Jan. 17.

In opening testimony, Dr. Garrett J. Boone, Butler County Coroner, said teeth marks found on Campbell's arm when arrested matched exactly an impression of Miss Andy's teeth.

Dr. Boone testified that Campbell said he got the teeth marks in a fight with his brother, but that the brother denied biting the defendant.

Under cross-examination, the coroner testified there was "no physical evidence to show that there was an attempted rape on this girl."

Craig Erickson, another patient at the hospital, testified he heard screams from the roof and looking up saw the girl plunge to her death while behind her on the roof, a man stood with his hands out in a pushing move.

But Erickson said he could not identify the man.

ONE IN A MILLION — Edward (Dutch) Sommer stands alone among the nearly one million persons engaged in automobile manufacturing. He occupies his unique status by virtue of being the only glass blower employed by Ford Motor Co., the only auto manufacturer which produces its own glass. Dutch, who has spent 50 of his 63 years in his chosen profession, blows "fishbowls" to be used in laboratory tests. Using a pipe six feet long, he removes a white-hot sample from the molten mass in the melting furnace at Dearborn, Mich. Sommer blows into the pipe and quickly transforms the shapeless mass into a delicate sphere. The "fishbowl" then undergoes purity tests in the plant's quality control laboratory.

Hopes of Alaska For Statehood Hinge on Two Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alaska's hope for statehood this year hinged today on two major tests, either of which could kill its chances.

The first test was scheduled on a preferential motion by Rep. Walter Rogers (D-Tex) to send a statehood bill back to the House Insular Affairs Committee where it began.

If unsuccessful in this, opponents then could demand a roll call vote on the action by which the House voted tentatively Tuesday, 144-107, to kill the bill.

Either motion, if adopted, has the effect of sidetracking any further consideration of the bill at this session. Should statehood advocates survive these votes, the House then would resume consideration of amendments to the bill.
